1. Purpose. To provide general guidance for the management of the NPS program as well as directive procedures for the NRAC Coordinator in the conduct of accession level training, mobilization qualifications, and rate/rating/skill qualifications for NPS enlisted accessions. NPS training is a joint Naval Reserve Forces Command (COMNAVRESFORCOM) and Naval Service Training Command (COMNAVSEVTRACOM) program. COMNAVRESFORCOM has responsibility for the conduct of Phases I, II, and IV and COMNAVSEVTRACOM has responsibility for Phase III. COMNAVSEVTRACOM, as the Navy lead for accession training, will monitor curriculum for all phases of NPS training. This instruction is designed as a single source reference for the administration and training of NPS personnel.

8 Sep 03

2. Cancellation. Commander, Naval Reserve Force (COMNAVRESFOR) has authorized the cancellation of COMNAVRESFORINST 3500.13. This instruction has been extensively revised and should be read in its entirety.

3. General. NPS enlisted personnel fill many essential requirements in the Naval Reserve. These personnel must be provided Basic Military Training Equivalency as specified in references (a) and (b) regarding accession level training. NPS personnel are motivated individuals who have made an informed choice to join the Naval Reserve. They will need support in acclimating themselves to military service. The Naval Reserve Activity (NRA) and Reserve unit, to which they are assigned, are expected to be fully engaged in preparing the Sailor for success by being involved and proactive, especially during the Initial Active Duty Training (IADT) equivalency period. Since projections indicate that as much as one half of our future Selected Reserve (SELRES) Sailors will be gained through the NPS process, the success of this program is the single biggest issue of Naval Reserve training for the foreseeable future.

4. Discussion

a. NPS personnel are defined as all personnel who join the Naval Reserve with no prior active or Reserve military service. The two sources for NPS personnel today are the Advanced Paygrade (APG) Program which accesses personnel in temporary rates and paygrades of E3 to E5, and the Accelerated Initial Accession (AIA) Program, which accesses non-rated personnel in a temporary paygrade of E3.

b. Retention/Attrition. NRA and unit level leadership and engagement are critical to the successful development and retention of NPS personnel. It is incumbent upon the NRA Commanding Officer to maintain close and continuous oversight over the NPS program. Leadership involvement and mentoring in a positive environment will produce positive Sailors. The phases and requirements addressed in this instruction do more than provide the structure to attain mobilization readiness and rate qualifications. They are also meant to provide consistent framework of interaction and support between the NPS member and the chain of command.

c. Per reference (a), no NPS personnel may be assigned outside the United States (OCONUS), its territories and possessions unless they have completed NRAC and performed an additional 67 calendar days of IADT for a minimum total of 84 days. Completing the IADT requirement is the highest priority for all NPS members. The member's first Annual Training (AT) will be at NRAC previously known as Non Prior Service Accession Course (NPSAC) and must be completed within one year of accession. Although one-year extensions are allowed, the focus should always be to deliver a mobilization asset as soon as possible. Peacetime contributory support will be secondary until IADT qualifications and entry level rating skills are attained. Each NPS member must fulfill the IADT and rating training requirements in the member's enlistment contract which will consist of a continuum of military training totaling 84 calendar days, with the purpose of providing new military members with the basic military skills required to perform their duties. The 84 calendar days of training may be accomplished through AT, Active Duty for Training (ADT), Active Duty for Special Work (ADSW), or Inactive Duty Training (IDT) (two drill periods equal one calendar day).

d. References (a) through (m), and enclosures (1) through (14) define IADT equivalency required for all Naval Reserve NPS accessions and structures it into four phases. The four phases are:

(1) Phase I: NPS Indoctrination. Enclosure (1) provides the discussion and training requirements. The NPS Coordinator of the NRA is responsible for scheduling and conducting NPS training. NPS Sailors will be placed into a training unit with no duties or assignments that will conflict with their ability to complete the NPS program. Enclosure (2) discusses in greater detail the use of the NPS units.

(2) Phase II: Pre-NRAC Training. Enclosures (3) through (7) provide guidance for completion of Phase II training. NPS members will complete the minimum pre-NRAC requirements and as many other additional requirements outlined in Phase I and II prior to NRAC. A NPS member must make every effort to attend IDT weekends and should not reschedule drills during the week. If the member has completed all Phase II training and an earlier NRAC quota can be obtained, the member should be given the opportunity to attend.

(3) Phase III: NRAC. The NRAC (CIN R-950-0002) will be completed on the member's first AT and will consist of 17 days of active duty at the Recruit Training Center (RTC), Great Lakes. Enclosure (8) lists Phase III requirements. NRAC graduates will receive an Administrative Remarks (NAVPERS 1070/613) for entry into their service record upon their return to their NRA.

(4) Phase IV: Post-NRAC. NRAC cannot cover all the Navy Military Training (NMT) topics required for IADT. Those topics not covered must be addressed at the NRA upon return from NRAC. As with Phase II, NMTs are not sequential and should be scheduled so personnel can begin training at any point. The NRA is responsible for scheduling, and should publish subjects and times in the Plan of the Month (POM) and/or Planning Board for Training (PBFT) minutes. Enclosure (9) provides detailed training requirements and discussion. Enclosure (10) is used to document completion of Phase IV training. The NRA will continue to coordinate IADT equivalency, but unit training needed to assimilate the member is to be accomplished at the same time, including required rating apprenticeship training. NMT curriculum/lesson plans are available on the NETC web site (<https://www.cnet.navy.mil>) (see enclosure (3)). Also, the Naval Reserve Pre-Mobilization Training (R-950-0007) taught by the Naval Reserve Professional Development Center (NRPDC) is available as an alternative to meet enclosure (9) curriculum requirements.

e. NPS personnel will not be authorized to wear the rating insignia reflecting their temporary rating until completion of NRAC and, if temporary rate is E4 or above, the Petty Officer Indoctrination Course.

(2) Scheduling and implementation of local training

(3) IADT equivalency completion status

(5) Ensure NPS personnel complete specific program requirements and skill training as specified in their enlistment contract.

(6) Submit electronic Quarterly NPS Status Report data (Enclosure (14)) to the NRA prior to the end of the first drill weekend of the quarter.

(7) All NPS Program Managers and NPS Coordinators must attend the NPS Coordinator Course (R-950-0012) within three months of assignment. The course is also open to anyone involved with the NPS Program (excluding NPS members who have not completed NRAC). Quotas can be obtained from NRAC Quota Control.

(8) Perform NRAC processing, including AT orders, uniform issues (receipt and proper wear), and required AT prescreening (with an emphasis on medical). NRAC Coordinator will download the most current NRAC Annual Training Checkout Screening List per reference (1). The screening must be fully completed with each block initialed as appropriate and this will signify that the signee has verified the member is ready in all respects to attend NRAC. This sheet will be included with the orders and records and will be hand delivered upon arrival to NRAC by the member.

(9) Submit extension request and cancellation/personnel request per paragraph 8 of this instruction.

g. Naval Reserve Accession Course School

(1) Reschedule or cancel quotas with NRA

(2) Conduct Phase III training

(3) Conduct and manage NPS Coordinators Course

6. Qualifications of NPS Personnel

a. Physical (Dental/Medical) Qualifications

(1) Ensure complete medical and dental examinations are conducted on all personnel before attending NRAC. Examinations will be carried out per reference (g), Articles 15-6 through 15-8, and will include appropriate studies listed in Article 15-9. Additionally, all personnel must have their dental classification established per Article 6-100. Military Entrance Processing Stations (MEPS), Military Treatment Facilities (MTF), contract services or other non-DoD exam sites approved by COMNAVRESFOR (N01M) will perform examinations. When a civilian dentist is used, they must document the exam using the Department of Defense Reserve Forces Dental Examination Form (DD Form 2813), available on the following web site: <http://web1.whs.osd.mil/icdhome/forms.htm>. Under no circumstances will the term "Facilities Not Available" or the abbreviation "FNA" be used as a substitute for required test results.

(2) NPS members must meet height/weight or body fat standards per reference (c). Personnel who do not meet the standards within 12-months are to be processed for administrative separation for unsatisfactory participation and not recommended for reenlistment because of their failure to complete the IADT equivalency as stated in reference (i).

(3) All Navy personnel should be in Dental Class I or II. However, IADT requirements allow NPS personnel to attend NRAC in Dental Class III or IV if attending within the first year in the Naval Reserve. NRAC students will not receive a dental exam at RTC and will be treated on an emergency care basis only.

(4) Personnel under active orthodontic treatment (braces) may not attend NRAC. If the member is under active orthodontic treatment at enlistment, they must provide written documentation prior to enlistment from their Orthodontist certifying that they will have completed treatment within six months of enlistment.

7. Accession/Affiliation and Personnel Management

a. Unit/Billet Assignment. NPS accessions will be assigned to a NPS unit with cross assignment to a local pay billet if one is available. Enclosure (2) gives additional information on NPS units.

8. Quota Management

a. The NRA NPS Coordinator will obtain a NRAC quota no later than the second IDT weekend after enlistment. Once a suitable date has been determined with the enlistee, the NPS Coordinator will complete the online form at <http://www.nsgreatlakes.navy.mil/NRAC/index.html> and forward to NRAC Quota Control to reserve a quota. The online form will also be used for any reschedules or cancellations.

b. Requests for orders must be placed in the New Order Writing System (NOWS) no later than eight weeks prior to the member's approved class convening date, to facilitate class loading and quota allotment. The NRAC convening date is to commence no later than 12 months from date of enlistment and should commence immediately upon completion of Phase II training requirements (average of five to six months after affiliation). Enclosure (7) must be completed to document NRAC course date.

c. Cancellations. If, at any time for any reason, an NPS member cannot attend NRAC as scheduled the NRAC Coordinator/NRA will cancel the member's quota with NRAC quota control. This must be done in order to maintain class throughput requirements at Recruit Training Command.

d. Extension Requests and Rescheduling

(1) Extensions: Requests for extensions of the 12-month requirement will be considered only for medical or dental conditions and must be shown to have been unavoidable.

(2) Rescheduling. Quotas will normally be rescheduled only once within a 12-month period. If a quota is rescheduled for a second time within the 12-month period, it must be for a valid medical or dental reason, which will be approved on a case-by-case basis by the member's Echelon IV command.

e. Travel Itinerary Requirements. NPS personnel are to be scheduled to arrive at O'Hare International Airport on their report date by 1700 and to depart from that same location on their graduation day no earlier than 1700. The NRA is responsible for coordinating the orders and for the member's pre-screening using the NPS Accession Course Annual Training Checkout Screening NAVRES 3500/18 (01-03) that is located in reference (1).

9. Failure to complete IADT Equivalency

a. The following will result in the processing of an administrative separation for unsatisfactory participation per reference (i):

(1) Failure to commence NRAC within 12 months of enlistment, unless an approved extension has been granted

(2) Failure to meet height/weight or body fat standards

b. NPS personnel may not be transferred to the Individual Ready Reserve (IRR), Voluntary Training Unit (VTU), or any other Reserve component before completing the statutory 84-day IADT equivalency and NMT curriculum.

10. Career Development Board (CDB)

a. CDBs shall be conducted until the member's IADT equivalency and rate qualifications are completed in the following periodicity:

(1) On the 6th, 12th, 24th, and 36th month of enlistment

(2) On first IDT weekend following completion of NRAC

b. The NRAs will track their progress and provide appropriate support. Using enclosure (13) as a guide, the CDB will advise and guide personnel in completing the IADT equivalency and requirements needed to make their temporary rate permanent.

c. The CDB will verify that the NPS member attained 3rd Class Swim qualification and completed General Shipboard Firefighting (J-495-0412) during NRAC. If these qualifications are not achieved at NRAC, the CDB will coordinate completion with the NRA, Unit, and NPS member within 36 months from date of enlistment.

11. Forms and Reports

a. The following forms listed below as noted:

(1) NAVPERS 1070/613, Administrative Remarks, S/N 0106LF0106991 can be obtained from normal Navy supply channels.

(2) NRAC Annual Training Checkout Screening Sheet, (NAVRES 3500/18 (REV 01-03)) is available for download from reference (1).

(3) The Department of Defense Reserve Forces Dental Examination Form local reproduction: <http://www.dior.whs.mil/forms/DD2813.pdf>.

b. The reporting requirement for electronic Quarterly Non-Prior Service Status is exempt from reports control by reference (m).

Phase I Requirements, IADT Equivalency

1. Designed to provide an immediate welcome and indoctrination on the NPS member's first drill weekend. In order for it to be successful, the recruiters must work with the NRA to ensure newly affiliating NPS members are identified beforehand and are delivered by the recruiters on the scheduled day.

a. The NRA is responsible for the conduct of Phase I training, which will be scheduled at least once a month.

b. Even if there is only one member attending, it must be conducted on that member's first drill day.

NPS UNIT/BILLET ASSIGNMENT

1. NPS units were established to assist with manpower management of enlisted personnel who are not a mobilization asset by assigning them to one unique unit within an NRA. ALL enlisted NPS accessions will be assigned to a NPS Unit with cross assignment to a local pay billet if one is available, or In Assignment Processing (IAP) if a vacant billet is not available. The NRA Commanding Officer will be responsible for the functioning of the NPS units.
2. No other personnel shall be assigned to these units including other IAP personnel who are not classified as NPS or SELRES who volunteer to assist with administration of the units.
3. The NPS units are unique in that they are the only units that allow cross assignments within the same NRA. NRA's must provide their Echelon IV commands with NPS personnel information (name, rate, and SSN) and billet information (RBSC and AUIC) to ensure proper cross assignments are made. Echelon IV Manpower staff has the ability to cross-assign NPS personnel from the NPS unit to available billets within the same NRA.
4. NPS personnel will remain in the unit until they have completed 84 days of IADT. Upon completion of Phase III, NPS personnel should complete Phase IV while assigned to the NPS unit. However, there may be situations where it is advantageous to complete Phase IV in a TAD status with their future gaining unit, such as BRIT, but remain assigned to the NPS unit.
5. Upon completion of Phase IV, NPS personnel will remain attached to the NPS unit, but will be in a TAD status with their future gaining unit. The assignment of the NPS unit will remain in effect to allow visibility and tracking the 84 day IADT requirement.
6. COMNAVRESFORCOM N13 will establish one NPS unit at each NRA and ensure they are properly titled and structured as a pay unit. The units will not contain any billet allowances.
7. As of the date of this instruction, all newly accessed NPS personnel must be assigned to the NPS unit. Within 3 months of the date of this instruction, NRA's must transfer all enlisted NPS personnel who have NOT completed NRAC and the 84 training day period into the NPS units. The 3 months of lag time should allow those who are close to completing NRAC and the 84 training days to finish their qualification as required and remain assigned in their current billet/unit.
8. Upon completing NRAC and the 84 training days, the NRA will IMMEDIATELY transfer the member from the NPS unit to a unit with pay billets. If there is no billet available, the member will be assigned in an IAP status.

8 Sep 03

Phase II Requirements, IADT Equivalency

1. To commence upon completion of Phase I Indoctrination. Phase II consists of a variety of general military training topics designed to prepare the NPS member for NRAC. It is not sequential and should be developed so personnel can begin the training at any point. The NRA, through its PBFT, is responsible for its scheduling and conduct, and should publish subjects and times in the POM and/or PBFT minutes.

2. The following are the minimum requirements that must be completed prior to attending NRAC:

a. Military Training Topics prepared by COMNAVRESFORCOM:

- (1) Uniforms and Grooming
- (2) Officer Rank Recognition
- (3) Enlisted Rank Recognition
- (4) Chain of Command
- (5) Military Customs and Courtesies
- (6) Watchstanding
- (7) Employer Support of the Guard and Reserve (ESGR)

d. Administrative Requirements

(1) Application for AT orders to NRAC

(2) Completion of NAVRES 3500/18, NRAC annual training Checkout Screening located on the NRAC Web Page.

(3) NRAC travel and reporting requirements and procedures

e. Physical Training Requirements

(1) Swim Requirements. Ideally, members should be able to meet the minimum requirements to pass the Third Class Swimmer Qualification prior to attending NRAC. Because there are limited opportunities to qualify as a Third Class swimmer at Great Lakes, it would benefit the member to know how to swim prior to attending. If the member doesn't obtain the Third Class Swimmer Qualification, he or she must qualify within three years of enlistment. Per reference (j), if the member does not complete Third Class Swim Qualification, they will not be eligible for Class "A" or "C" school, apprenticeship training, extension of enlistment, reenlistment, or assignment to any afloat command until successful completion.

(2) Physical Training Requirements. Members must be able to meet the minimum requirements to pass an official or mock Personal Fitness Assessment (PFA) with a score of SAT Medium prior to attending NRAC. Emphasis must be placed on physical fitness. NRAC is conducted in a Boot Camp environment and physical conditioning is essential prior to arrival.

(3) Members identified as borderline for body fat standards should be monitored on a monthly basis per reference (c) to keep member aware of current PFA readiness.

3. Memorize the 11 General Orders of a Sentry and the Sailor's Creed. It is also helpful to memorize the RTC Chain of Command. All are found on the NRAC Web Page.

4. Training may be available in either web-based or classroom instruction and either can be used to complete requirements. If web-based training is utilized, the course completion certificate must be presented to NRAC Coordinator.

5. Documentation of training completion will be accomplished by completing an Administrative Remarks (NAVPERS 1070/613) (Enclosure (5)). When all training has been completed, the Page 13 will be filed in the member's service record as permanent documentation of training completion.

6. If the member has completed all Phase II training and an earlier NRAC quota can be obtained, the member should be given the opportunity to attend.

8 Sep 03

Non-Prior Service Training Unit (NPSTU) Phase II Training Schedule Sample

1. The NPSTU Phase II training schedule takes four IDT weekends to complete. It is designed to run on a continuous cycle so that an NPS member can begin training at any point in the cycle. This training schedule is provided as a tool. It can be utilized as a template with flexibility to fit the Reserve Activity schedule. In order to remain on track, NPS candidates should not attend the NRA's All Hands General Military Training (GMTs) or stand watches on the Quarterdeck or gate guard. NPSTU staff must ensure that the required classes are held each IDT weekend to keep their NPS candidates on track.
2. The training schedule outlines the required Military Training Topics, NMT Core Topics and other required training. Time is also allotted for individual study and visits to Supply, Administration and Medical, as necessary. Members should be encouraged to complete their BMR's and study memorization items during these periods. The training schedule also contains blocks of time for practical exercises. These evolutions are critical for ensuring a smooth transition into the military and in preparation for NRAC. NPSTU staff is encouraged to not only utilize the list of recommended practical exercises but to think of other creative ways to train NPS members.
3. When NPS candidates have completed a 4-month cycle and are still awaiting their NRAC class date, NPSTU staff should use their discretion in deciding whether or not the member would benefit from completing Military Training Topics or NMT Core Topics a second time.
4. NPSTU staff is encouraged to utilize PowerPoint presentations, video, web-based instruction and student guides, when available, for classroom training. Instructors should be familiar with the material and prepared for their classes. NPSTU staff can solicit help during the NRA's monthly Planning Board for Training. Another resource which should not be overlooked are NRAC graduates who could be involved in running practical exercises and assisting with close order drill.
5. Practical exercises help the student apply what they have learned in the classroom. Although not required, they are encouraged. List of practical exercise ideas include:
 - Quarterdeck Procedures
 - Knot tying
 - Filling out Request Chit Instruction
 - Training Musters/Training Log Instruction
 - NRAC Graduate Debriefs
 - Rank/Rate Game/Quiz
 - General Orders/Sailors Creed Game/Quiz
 - "Who Wants To Be A Master Chief"
 - Chain of Command Quiz
 - "Simon Says" or "Last Man Standing" facing movements
 - Uniform Inspections
6. PowerPoint presentations are available online per reference (1). Web-based training is available on the Navy E-learning Network website www.navylearning.com.

Transfer of Non-Prior Service Personnel From NPSTU Unit

1. _____ has successfully completed the Naval Reserve Accession Course (NRAC) and a final drill weekend with the Non-Prior Service Training Unit (NPSTU). He/She will be transferred to your unit and should be expected on the _____ drill weekend.
2. Each Non-Prior Service member will be reporting with a training folder which documents the training they have had to date in addition to the training they are still required to complete. These additional training requirements, NPS Phase IV, are mandated by COMNAVSEVTRACOM/COMNAVRESFORCOMINST 3500.1 and listed in Enclosure (9). An Administrative Remarks page is provided to document the training in Enclosure (10).
3. All NPS members have been issued a complete seabag and should report in the uniform of the day. They will need to be issued organizational clothing if that is your unit's prescribed uniform.
4. I would appreciate any feedback on how the member integrates into your unit. As the program is currently set-up, each Non-Prior Service candidate completes approximately six drill weekends (Phase I and Phase II) of quality training at the NRA, followed by an intensive 17-day "Boot Camp" at RTC, Great Lakes, IL. The member then returns to the NPSTU where they will complete the final phase of their Non-Prior Service training - Phase IV. They remain in the unit until they have completed the 84 day IADT requirement. Feel free to contact me regarding their training or any other concerns you may have.
